REPRESENTATIVES

In China, Calcutta, Madras, Colombo, Kurrachee, New York, New Zealand, Manilla, New Orleans.

WE respectfully solicit the commands of Messes, General Merchants, and European Residents of Western India, to whom, from the extensive nature of our business, we can offer better terms than any other House in Bombay. Our business in Europe has for upwards FIFTY YEARS been confined to the Wine trade, and being importers on the London and Bordeaux markets, we are in the best position to meet the requirements of the Indian public.

We subjoin our LIST OF SELECTED WINES for this Market, and beg to intimate:—

1st. That we cannot execute orders for less than 1 dozen cases, or 2 dozen pints of either one of them; Liqueurs excepted. These in not less quantities than ½ dozen pints or quarts.

2nd. That our Wines and Spirits are procurable from every respectable General Shopkeeper in Bombay and at Out-stations; they, however, fix their own selling prices for them.

3rd. That our quotations are for delivery from our Godowns, and that we do not take the risk of subsequent breakage. Nor can we undertake to deliver Wines, &c. in Bombay.

4th. That our quotations for all Sparkling Wines do NOT provide for examination of original packed Cases, or for the rejection of alleged or broken bottles likely to be found in such cases, on arrival, after a long sea voyage. We guarantee each Case to contain its full complement. We guarantee each Bottle at time of shipment, but at our prices, cannot provide for atmospheric or climatic influences; if our constituents wish us to take this risk, which affects sparkling wine more than any other, we can only do so by adding Rs. 4 per dozen quarts, and Rs. 2½ per dozen pints to our quotations.

THE SYMPATHETIC GRAND SQUARE PIANO-FORTE is confidently recommended as possessing all the essentials of a first-rate Instrument, in regard to Tone and Touch, and is guaranteed to withstand the deteriorating influences of the climate of India and of the Tropics generally.

In addition to the transverse iron bars, and the plates and stays which extend horizontally over the Piano, there are numerous iron bolts which are driven vertically through the block, and the bolt ends are strongly secured underneath the instrument.

The strings are divided into two sets, and are placed obliquely—one set over the other; by this contrivance the Tension or Pull of the strings is distributed in opposing directions; and the value of this arrangement will be more apparent when it is stated that in the Sympathetic Grand Square the aggregate pull of the wires is equal to a weight of ten thousand pounds.

The importance of this perfect mode of securing cannot be over rated, and can only be judged of by those who have resided in tropical climates.

All the various interior parts are secured with screws where it has been possible to employ them. It may be added under the "mode of securing," that the case is of Solid Mahogany, the mode in which the Sympathetic Grand Piano is Strung, has originated the title by which it is designated.

It is obvious that each string, when struck, has its Sympathetic notes put in vibration, giving additional fullness and richness to the tone.

The Compass of the Sympathetic Grand Square Piano is seven octaves, A to A, and consequently all the newest compositions, and the fullest duet arrangements can be performed on this Instrument.

The Touch of the Sympathetic Grand Square Piano answers to the most rapid repetition, and, from its extreme delicacy, the accompaniment to a Song can be rendered as effectively as the passages of the brilliant Concerto.

The exterior of the Sympathetic Grand Square Piano is of solid Mahogany.

It has met with universal approval, and, although made of the most substantial and solid materials, it may claim to be considered more ornamental than any other style of Grand Square Piano.

The under surface is formed of a bed of solid wood, by which the Instrument is protected from the ingress of insects and from the effects of damp.

Each Sympathetic Square is guaranteed, and is provided with a strong packing case of wood, lined with zinc or tin, and a handsome Piano-Forte cover.

Price complete, deliverable in Bombay, including Agency charges in Europe, Cape Freight and Insurance, Customs' duty in India, Agency and Landing charges in India, unpacking, examining, and repacking for transit in India,

The Bombay Gazette

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1868.

AN estimate of the results of the general election, based on the information accessible in London five days ago, was received on Saturday by telegraph. On a previous occasion the compiler in England accounted for 519 members, he now accounts for 611; leaving the issues of forty-five elections unknown. The relative strength of parties as reported on the 23rd was 330 to 189; the relative strength as reported on the 25th was 364 to 247—in other words; where the Liberals had gained 34, the Conservatives had gained 58. From these figures we may now form a tolerably accurate rough guess at the relative proportions of the rivals on the opening of Parliament. Assuming that the Liberals obtain 18 and the Conservatives 27 of the 45, then the division will be

Liberals	382
Conservatives	274
Majority for the Liberals	108

But the grand total 108 will no doubt be much less on the first important division, because it is probable that several men are classed as Liberals who were chiefly remarkable in the extinct Parliament for their opposition to the Liberal party. Mr. Pim, returned for Dublin City, is an excellent instance of the class to which we refer; and there are certain to be some more of the same stamp. So that, making allowance for waverers and absentees, it is not probable that the deciding majority will exceed 100. The working majority, of course, will be far below that figure, except on vital and critical occasions. But it is now quite manifest that, unless the new House submits to some strange manœuvres, the Disraeli Ministry will be at an end a few hours before Christmas day.

Mr. Reuter sends but few personal details of the Elections, but they illustrate the fortune of war. Mr. Gladstone's defeat will be no surprise for any one who knows the kind of enemies against whom he had to contend—Lord Derby's influence and money, the Orangemen of Liverpool, and the partizans who follow the leader. Mr. Massey owes his defeat to similar influences; but the defeat of Mr. Milner Gibson and Mr. Cardwell, for so we read the letters "Crellgee," are not so easily explained. Money probably deprived Mr. Bernal Osborne of a select audience for his jokes, and Mr. Roebuck must be held to have been driven out by his own insolence, the hostility of the Trades' Unions, and the formidable character of his opponent Mr. Mundella. The effect of the minority clause has been to deprive Baron Rothschild of his seat—and no doubt Mr. Disraeli will offer his friend sincere condolences. While the Manchester Conservatives have secured a member, Birmingham, Leeds, and Glasgow have managed to work the complicated arithmetical problems required to enable the majority to carry all their candidates under the minority clause. Neither Mr. Powell nor Mr. Gorst will be missed in the House of Commons, but the removal of Mr. Darby Griffith—a bore par excellence, but otherwise a good man—will be a great relief. In losing Mr. Austin Bruce, the Liberals are deprived of an useful man, and the question of education will fall into other hands. Full details are needed to enable us to see where the majority comes from, and to judge of the working of the new suffrage, especially in the counties.

THE extraordinary anomaly presented by the continuance of the Bengal Bank Agency in Bombay provokes a good deal of astonishment. And no wonder. Not only has the object for which the Bengal Bank invaded this island been long accomplished, but the Secretary of State for India has actually requested the Governor-General to recall the Agency. Why it has not been wound up is a mystery. It is quite true that the Calcutta Advocate General has given an opinion to the effect that the Supreme Government is powerless to remove the Agency by legal means, but the soundness of that opinion may be fairly challenged, and, indeed, has been challenged by a request that the Crown lawyers in London should also give their opinion. The pretext of the Bengal Board that the Presidency Bank of Bombay cannot be safely trusted to conduct the interests of the Presidency Bank at Calcutta is a simple impertinence, for the large deposits now lodged in our Bank, nearly equal to those of the Bengal concern, show the confidence that is felt on this side of India.

The truth is that under the circumstances, the Bengal Bank has no legitimate business here at all. For the moment when the Government took shares in our Bank and lodged its funds there, the Bombay Bank stood on a footing of equality with the Bengal Bank, because also a Presidency Bank and entitled to all the privileges and advantages of its position. It is contrary to common sense that two Government Banks should compete against each other in the same rayon. If the Bengal Agency is allowed to remain here we see no reason why the competition should not be more severe and more general—why Madras should not come to Bombay also, Bombay go to Madras, and both Madras and Bombay go to Calcutta. That would be a reductio ad absurdum of the principle or pretext upon which the Bengal Bank is allowed to hold on both here and at Kurrachee. Surely the powers of the Supreme Government, and still more its practical inventive statesmanship, must have fallen to a very low ebb, if means cannot be devised to give effect to the imperative direction of Sir Stafford Northcote. Whatever views may be held on the subject of free banking, unfettered by State control or State co-operation, they do not apply to the present case, which is truly a monstrosity, and, if unchanged, will remain the despair of common sense and common equity.

WE are receiving so many communications upon the subject of the imprisonment of Mulharao Gaekwar by his brother, the Sovereign of Baroda, that it is impossible to pass over the circumstance in silence. There must be some truth in what so many assert.

It appears to be an undoubted fact, that after the dismissal by the then Resident of a false charge that Mulharao was implicated in treasonable practices—he was seized by his brother's orders, anddetained as a prisoner, and from that time, without trial or further inquiry, has been detained in prison for the last five years, deprived of all society and recreation—never during that time permitted to see friend or relation—and compelled to submit to deprivations of every kind: and this with the knowledge and sanction of the Bombay Government. Considering the scope of the Queen's Proclamation subsequent to the mutinies, and how many pardoned traitors among the Princes of India now enjoy the countenance and favour of the British Government, we marvel at the action adopted in this particular instance by Sir Bartle Frere and his advisers.

The case presents a grave reflection on the late administration. The heir-apparent to the throne of Baroda imprisoned for five long years by his own brother, simply to "keep him out of harm's way"—and that under circumstances of great cruelty and inhumanity!

It is obvious that such an imprisonment ought never to have been permitted for an hour, nor would it even have taken place but for the significant fact, that if the prisoner were to survive the Gaekwar, he would succeed to the throne, notwithstanding the existence at the time of any son of the Gaekwar himself. It is high time, however, that our present Governor should take the matter into his own hands, and endeavour to make himself acquainted with the real truth of the case. We feel sure that he will do so, as soon as the circumstances are properly brought to his notice, for it would be an honour to him to prevent the continuance of this great scandal.

As for the Resident, whose special duty it is to quench oppression of this kind, we can scarcely review his apparent supineness in terms sufficiently condemnatory. His Kattiawar policy (which he has so much reason to remember) seems to have followed him to Baroda. We should like to see his opinion and description of this wicked imprisonment, for we presume that he transmits of course, from time to time, reports thereon to the Government. Unless he had encouraged it, the imprisonment could not have been thus tolerated or protracted by the Government, and, to judge from the past it will continue till the miserable captive is released by death—and then "Who would have thought it?" or, may be, "Who cares?" But in such an event the public voice will not be silent on the responsibility incurred by the apathy or neglect of the Government.

As the matter stands even now it is difficult to reflect on the circumstances connected with this imprisonment with patience.

IN choosing Dr. Jackson to succeed Dr. Tait in the See of London, Mr. Disraeli has made another good selection. Dr. Jackson was long Rector of St. James's, Piccadilly, if we remember rightly, and was taken thence to Lincoln. He is a man universally respected, a moderate Churchman, and will no doubt prove worthy of his promotion. "Archdeacon" Wordsworth should surely be read Canon Wordsworth, an active member of Convocation.

OUR Military Correspondent in England writes—"The Indian Navy is to be restored. Captain Rich, R. N., is to go out to Bombay as Commodore and take the place of the present Superintendent of Marine."

WE learn from the same source, that Captain Colin Campbell, R. N., who served in the Abyssinian campaign as Staff Commander of the flag-ship "Octavia," was to be appointed to the "Ariadne

AFGHANISTAN.

THE DEFEAT OF SIRDAR ABDOOL RAHMAN KHAN.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

4th November.—A letter received this day by the Ameer from Sirdar Mahomed Yakoob Khan stated that the Sirdar had reached the village Moolla, five marches distant from Cabul, on the Bamian road. Sirdar Shere Ali Khan Kandaharee was nominated to the Governorship of Candahar. He has, however, been recalled to Cabul, and it was in contemplation by the Ameer to send him to Peshawur as his envoy to the British Government. The Sirdar, it is said, will have power to settle terms with the British Government and to act in such a manner as to establish friendship between the two powers. This was given out by the Sirdars in the durbar, although the Sirdar at present acts as the Ameer's secretary. The Ameer despatches troops every day in the direction of Bamian, after payment of their pay arrears. Large numbers of camels and mules arrive daily at Cabul from Ghiznee, and are immediately despatched to Bamian. Sirdars Noor Mahomed Khan and Yahya Khan were summond by the Ameer to to-day's durbar, and the latter was ordered to march for the battle-field with his sowars, while the former was directed to attend the durbars. The Ameer, however, puts no faith in Sirdar Noor Mahomed Khan.

5th November.—News was received from the frontier at Bamian to-day, to the effect that a distance of only six kosses separated the camp of Sirdar Mahomed Yakoob Khan from that of Sirdar Abdool Rahman Khan, and that a fight between the troops of the two Sirdars was expected every moment. The first engagement will take place at Bamian, for Chareekar is too far distant from the Bamian pass. Yakoob Khan's camp was at Kond, one march distant from Surchushma and six kosses from the Bamian pass. At this place, however, the Sirdar's troops suffer in the extreme for want of provisions. Mutton for troops and grass for horses are chiefly required, and as these could not be supplied from head-quarters and had to be got from the surrounding district the difficulty was great. A letter was meanwhile received by the Ameer from Chareekar, from the Sirdars in command of the troops despatched in that direction, complaining that no provisions could be procured in the neighbourhood of Chareekar and asking what they should do. An answer was sent to them to the effect that they must manage for themselves, as it was impossible to render them any assistance from Cabul.

6th November.—The following letter was received from Bamian to-day:—"General Faramooz Khan was encamped at Kharzara station, in the vicinity of Bamian, when the regiment known as the Zurdpash Pultim, which was originally commanded by the late Sirdar Mahomed Ali Khan, son of Ameer Shere Ali Khan, deserted the side of Naseer Khan, General of Sirdar Abdool Rahman Khan, and joined the main body of Sirdar Faramooz Khan's troops." The matter is, however, not much to be rejoiced over by the Cabul Ameer's friends, as it is the characteristic of the Afghan soldiers to desert one side and join the other in the heat of action, or in fact whenever they choose to act thus. Shere Ali Khan puts little faith in his own troops, and he has given out that should necessity oblige him he will himself proceed to Bamian to the command of his army. Nothing of importance was heard from the camp this day.

7th November.—The following was received this day by the Ameer from Sirdar Fatteh Mahomed Khan:—"I have ascertained that Sirdar Abdool Rahman Khan has gone back from Bamian one march off the Balkh road on some urgent business. His troops with their commandant Sirdars are, however, still at Bamian. It is on account of the absence of Sirdar Abdool Rahman Khan from Bamian that no engagement has taken place. We do not proceed for the present, as a march for the interior would be sure of success when we have beaten the enemy in a battle. There is not the slightest cause for fear for the present, as the enemy enjoys no advantage over us." The Ameer was greatly assured by the receipt of this letter, and having taken Sirdar Mahomed Kassum Khan with him into a private apartment he remained consulting with him for a long time.

8th November.—The following important letter was received by Ameer Shere Ali Khan from Bamian this day:—"Ameer Azim Khan governs Turkistan in the absence of his nephew, Sirdar Abdool Rahman Khan, and is now stationed at Khilm. Azim Khan has further appointed his father-in-law, Meer of Budakhshan, to be also Governor of Akhcha. No sooner did Azim Khan take charge of the governorship of Turkistan than revolts occurred at various stations of the province. Hakeem Jan, the Ameer Azim Khan's father-in-law, and the ruler of Budakhshan, was trying his utmost to suppress the insurrections broken out in various parts of the country. Probably this was the cause of the sudden departure of Sirdar Abdool Rahman Khan from Bamian." It will appear from the above that Sirdar Abdool Rahman Khan was also in difficulties, although his difficulties differed in their nature from those of Ameer Shere Ali Khan. The belief at Cabul is that the present difficulties which the Sirdar's uncle Azim Khan has to cope with in Turkistan have arisen in consequence of an intrigue which Shere Ali Khan had made with the Turkistanee Sirdars and Chiefs. It was rumoured to-day that the Peshkhamah of Sirdar Shere Ali Khan Candaharee was about to be sent to Jellalabad preparatory to his proceeding to Peshawur to wait on the British authorities.

9th November.—Under directions of the Ameer Shere Ali Khan, Sirdar Mahomed Yakoob Khan has marched for Chareekar from the neighbourhood of Bamian, as reports were current of late of the approach of Sirdar Sarwar Khan, son of Ameer Azim Khan, in the direction of the former post. Bamian affairs will therefore be conducted solely by Sirdar Fatteh Mahomed Khan, Sirdar Faramooz Khan Kaffiree, and a host of other Sirdars. The following news was received from Bamian this day:—"The troops under Sirdar Fatteh Mahomed Khan having marched from their camp, Kharzará, an engagement took place between them and the troops of Sirdar Abdool Rahman Khan under General Naseer Khan. The latter were defeated with great loss and took to flight to Chargorhi on the Bamian and Surchushmah road. Sirdar Fatteh Mahomed Khan pursued them almost at their heels, and obliged the enemy to take the Kotull direction. The Sirdar's (Fatteh Mahomed Khan's) troops were now encamped at Seh Nillah, four kosses distant from General Naseer Khan's camp." Another letter stated as follows—"A fight, not very sanguinary, although important in its results, took place at Seh Nillah, this side of the Bamian pass, between the troops of Sirdar Abdool Rahman Khan under General Naseer Khan and those of Ameer Shere Ali Khan under General Fatteh Mahomed Khan. The former were defeated, and retreated with great loss in the direction of Balkh. General Naseer Khan was killed in this battle by a cannon ball. Bamian was occupied by Sirdar Fatteh Mahomed Khan, while a great fort of Sirdar Abdool Rahman Khan's war stores and ammunition fell into the hands of the victors." [illegible] a fight resulting in the defeat of the Turkistanee troops had actually been fought has been confirmed from various sources, although it has not yet confidentially asserted whether Naseer Khan had met his death in the battle-field and whether Bamian had actually been occupied by the troops of Ameer Shere Ali Khan. Subsequent news will, however, clear up this point.

A PERSIAN NAVY.

PERSIA (writes the Army and Navy Gazette) is a country chiefly known in the Western World as exporting attar of roses, carpets, and cats. It now promises to be famous as being early inoculated with a desire to be the possessor of an ironclad fleet If the commodities to which we have alluded could only be produced in increased abundance and brought within the means of the large consuming classes in the British islands, the Shah would have no difficulty in financing for the payment of his ships. We have been informed that our Minister at Teheran has, at the request of the Government to which he is accredited, applied to Lord Stanley for the "loan" of on English naval officer, to be engaged for one year certain on the full pay and table money of his rank, to advise as to the equipment of a squadron of a sufficient strength to maintain peace and order among the marauders who hitherto have imparted an undesirable reputation to the Persian Gulf, and, at the same time, to give that degree of dignity to an empire which is making rapid strides on the road of civilization. The appointment has been offered to a distinguished officer high up on the list of captains, but has been declined by him for reasons which must be obvious to those who gave him the refusal of it. The Lords of the Admiralty could not have done less than pay the compliment to the officer referred to, but they could not have been surprised at his preferring to take the chance of a home appointment, such as that about to become vacant immediately at [illegible]ster as that which will only be held for a few [illegible]nger by Captain Shadwell at Portsmouth. In order to guard against the probability of collisions, which might have an unpleasant effect on the harmony which should always reign between British naval officers, it will be necessary that the gentleman who is to be selected to proceed to Persia should be junior to Commodore Sir Leopold Heath.

The same paper says—"We have heard that Captain F. Campbell (1854) will proceed to Persia for the purpose of organising the navy of that country, but should any circumstance occur to prevent his going, we are told the Admiralty will then offer the appointment to Captain Rice (1865.)"

THE BONUS SCHEME.

WE (Madras Athenæum) mentioned in a late issue that the bonus scheme had been received favourably at home. We now hear that the Supreme Government have recognized the necessity of affording greater inducements to the retirement of field officers, than are held out by the present pension rules. They have recommended to Sir Stafford Northcote that the period of service (28 years) entitling a Lieutenant-Colonel to the pension of his rank be reduced by several years, and that a Colonel shall have a slightly increased pension after 30 instead of 32 years' service.

THE INDO-EUROPEAN TELEGRAPH.

THE interruption in telegraphic communication by cable between Bushire and Fao does not appear to have been caused by a break, as reported originally, since the line has resumed work without the necessity of taking up the cable. There is, however, some fault which, we believe, was not wholly unexpected, but which doubtless will be soon remedied.

The Amberveitch proceeded up the Mekran Coast on Saturday to lay eighty miles of cable up to Angaum Colonel Goldsmid, Colonel Pelly, and Mr. Walton leave for the Gulf on Thursday with the steamers Elphinstone, Canning, and Sind. Captain Phelps, R. E., goes also by this opportunity with reference to the erection of new telegraph stations.—Sindian, Nov 25.

HYDERABAD (DECCAN).

A BAZAAR rumour obtained currency the other day to the effect that disturbances of some kind had taken place at Hyderabad, and that troops were wanted in that direction. While the rumour may be safely discredited there is no doubt that a tempest on a small scale is brewing up there. The anomalous position of the minister, and the discontent in the city, are rendered more important by the fact that the Nizam is highly irate with the Viceroy about a letter he has recently received. Lord Mayo will have quite enough on his hands when he comes out here, one way and another.—Bangalore Herald, Nov. 25.

SERIOUS DEFICIENCY IN MADRAS MUNICIPAL FUNDS.

THE report of the Special Committee appointed to analyse the local municipal accounts will cause no little stir in Errabauloo Chetty Street. Of course no one is to blame for a deficiency of nigh Rs. 30,000,—no one ever is—it is one of those little accidents that will occur in the very best regulated Municipalities. Still, the deficiency is not exactly encouraging, and the terms in which the report is couched are said to be far from flattering to certain gentlemen whose intelligence seems at fault. Of cource Rs. 30,000 is a mere flea-bite in these prosperous times, and if the shoe should pinch, why, it is competent for the Commission to give the foot ease by further taxation. The fact seems to be that the present vitality of the Board has been injudiciously grafted upon plethoric remnants of a former system, and the result has been unsatisfactory and will continue so unless more new blood is infused. The Commission has a very zealous and respected President, but it needs a good deal besides before it will entirely come up to the requirements of this large town.—Madras Times.

THE WRECK OF THE "CLASMERDEN."

WE announced on Saturday the wreck of the Clasmerden, during the recent cyclone at the Arracan coast. From the Arracan News of the 12th instant we get the following details:—

"We regret to have to record the melancholy event of the total wreck of the ship Clasmerden, 1589 tons register, under the command of Captain Charles Thomas, from Bombay, within six miles of our harbour. It appears from information in our possession, that she was coming to Akyab 'seeking,' and lay at anchor, waiting for a favourable opportunity to enter the port. During the boisterous and unsettled state of the weather she went down on her anchor, which caused her to be leaky to an extent so frightful, as to render any assistance to save her or the crew utterly impossible. She was actually observed by the spectators ashore to fill and sink gradually, till her hull was completely immersed. Her boats, with one exception, were washed away by the billows.

"Of the 26 men who composed the crew, inclusive of the captain, mates, &c., 7 perished, together with the boatswain, steward, carpenter, and cook. The survivors are, the captain, the 1st and 2nd mates, 12 seamen, and 3 boys. The 2nd mate and 8 men landed in one of the ship's boats, and one boy was washed ashore on a plank, on the cocoanut plantations, where he fully expected to contend with cannibals to save his life. He was, however, well taken care of. Captain Day, of the mail steamer Oriental, lay at anchor during the whole night in vicinity of the wreck, and within sight of it, and thereby induced the poor unfortunate men who had lashed themselves to the vessel, to take courage, and endure their hardships, till daylight, when he sent his boat in command of Mr. Reginald Fawcett, his 2nd mate, who succeeded in rescuing 6 men from the wreck, and put them safely on board of H. M. S. Nemesis, which brought them into harbour, the Oriental then proceeded on her voyage to Rangoon. The Nemesis ventured out of the harbour between 5 and 6 P.M., but owing to the darkness of the night, she lay at anchor on the ballast ground till daylight of the following morning.

"Too great a share of praise cannot be bestowed on Captain Day, for the display of his humanity and his efforts to rescue the wrecked seamen, and also the mate for his promptness and courage in executing the orders of the captain.

"As no suitable vacant house could be found for the relief and accommodation of the distressed seamen, Dr White, Superintendent of the Jail, has allowed them the use of the hospital till necessary arrangements can be effected for sending them to Calcutta. They will in the interim, be provided for at the Government expense. This is the third wreck during the past six months."

BOMBAY.

SIR RICHARD TEMPLE visited the bunders and stores on the Elphinstone Land and Reclamation Company on Thursday.

MAILS will be closed at the General Post Office, Bombay, for Zanzibar per buggalow "Futtel Kare," to-day, at 9 A. M.

ON a report being submitted to the local Government by the Sheriff of Bombay, the convict James Scott has been ordered to be transferred to the House of Correction.

MR. JOHN CONNON, the Acting Senior Magistrate of Police, has fixed Wednesday, the 2nd proximo, for the hearing of the case against Rustomjee Pestonjee Soortee, articled clerk to Mr. Pestonjee Dinshaw, solicitor, on a charge of perjury.

THE BOMBAY UNIVERSITY.—The following candidates have passed the examination for the degree of M. A., in connection with the Bombay University:—Messrs Ambailal Sakurlal Desai, Bomanjee Eduljee Mody, Kashinat Trimbuck Telang, and Jamshedjee Ardasheer Dalal. All these candidates belong to the Elphinstone College.

THE Fifth Criminal Sessions of Bombay for this year opened on Friday, the 20th instant, and concluded on Saturday last—the Hon'ble Sir Josch Arnould having been the presiding Judge. The calendar comprised in all 33 cases, implicating 39 prisoners. Of these 26 were Hindoos, 5 Europeans, 5 Mahomedans, 1 Indo-Briton, 1 Parsee, and 1 African. There was one case of culpable homicide amounting to murder; one of adultery and criminal intimidation; one of forgery; one of using a forged document; two of robbery; one of escaping from custody; five of house-breaking by night and theft; five of cheating; one of delivering counterfeit coins; three of criminal breach of trust; and eleven of theft. Of the 39 prisoners, 16 were acquitted as not guilty, 1 was sentenced to transportation for life, and 2 for fifteen years, 1 to penal servitude for ten years, and the others to the following terms of imprisonment:—1 for six years, 1 for five years, 4 for seven years, 10 for three years, 1 for eighteen months, and 2 for a year.

A SHORT time ago one Suttee, a woman said to be aged sixteen years, was charged before C. F. H. Shaw, Esq., Session Judge of Belgaum, with the murder of a girl named Fuckeeree. It appear, from the Session Judge's finding that the prisoner was a young woman, certainly of greater age than sixteen years, and the deceased girl was aged eight or nine years. On the day of the murder Suttee sent her little brother to call Fuckeeree to her house under pretence of giving her flowers. Fuckeeree's father was in the house when the child arrived, and he readily gave his assent to Fuckeeree visiting Suttee, but told her to come home quickly. After two hours Yella, the girl's father, became impatient and went to Suttee's house to fetch Fuckeeree. He thereupon met Suttee's mother Yallowa, who told him Fuckeeree had gone home. Yella returned, but the girl not having arrived, he went back and insisted on examining Suttee's yard, when in a ditch close by he found the dead body of Fuckeeree, naked and covered with wounds. The wretched father lifted the corpse, and carried it to the high road close by and then raised an alarm, when Fuckeeree's mother came up; and leaving the corpse in her charge, he proceeded to lodge an information before the village authorities. A jury was held the same evening and enquiries were made. Suspicion naturally fell upon Suttee and her mother, and was strengthened by finding the boddice of the former stained with blood. She denied the charge, and only confessed when her blood-stained clothes revealed her secrets. She then restored the dead girl's ornaments and shewed the axe, concealed in a stack, with which she had committed the murder; and next day, when the Fouzdar arrived, she showed the actual spot where the murder was effected; and broken bangles and blood-stained leaves abundantly confirmed her narrative. Lastly, she restored the clothes and cap the poor girl wore when murdered. She confessed freely and fully before the villagers and the full-power Magistrate. Her confession was proved by the restoration of the dead girl's ornaments and clothes and the blood-stained axe; and though she denied her confession before the Court, the Session Judge thought no reasonable doubt of her guilt could exist. The Court, concurring with the assessors, convicted the prisoner, and, as the murdered child was literally hacked to pieces, and there was nothing extenuating in the prisoner's conduct, sentenced her to be hanged.

On appeal, the High Court (the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Warden and the Hon'ble Sir Charles Sargent) confirmed the sentence of death passed by the Session Judge.

ARRIVAL OF H. M. S. "DRYAD"

CAPTURE OF A SLAVER.

H. M.'s GUNBOAT Dryad, four guns, commanded by Captain P. F. Colomb, arrived in the harbour here on Saturday. The Dryad sailed from Bombay about a year ago, in connection with the Abyssinian expedition, and, after lying at Annesley Bay for six months, sailed thence on the 18th June for Aden. She touched there on the 21st, and after eight days sailed for Trincomalee which she reached on 14th July. Then on the 2nd of the following month the Dryad sailed for Johanna, which she reached on the 29th August and left two days afterwards. On the way to Madagascar she sighted a slave dhow, on the 4th September, when off Johanna. The Dryad at once gave chase and kept after the dhow for about four hours. One or two blank charges were fired over the craft, but the captain did not give in till his dhow was run ashore, and then he and about a half of the crew took to their boats and made an escape. The dhow was a craft of about 100 tons, and had 190 slaves on board. These men, women, and children had been shut up in a square of about 26 feet, and many of the creatures, who were mostly young, were so weak and ill that they could not make their way on board the Dryad. However, assistance was given, and all were cleared out, and eleven of the crew who remained were also taken on board the Dryad. These were landed on Madagascar, and the slaves were taken to the Seychelles, which the Dryad reached on 12th September,—the slaves having generally much recovered, and only four deaths having occurred amongst them whilst on board the Dryad. On the 17th September, the gunboat left for Kooria Mooria, and cruised until about the 15th October, when she sailed for Aden. This station was reached on the 25th October, and the Dryad again sailed on the 5th November for Perim. She reached that Island on the 5th and the lighthouse, we believe, was inspected. The revolving apparatus and some of the other machinery was found out of order and a report on that subject has been presented to Government. The Dryad then sailed from Perim on the 7th November, returned to Aden, and left on the 8th for Bombay. She arrived here on Saturday, and now awaits the orders of the Commodore.

THE OVERBRIDGES.

IT will be remembered that the Carnac Overbridge, which was the first finished of the three, was opened about two months ago by a grand native tumasha. The other two bridges, the Musjid and the Elphinstone, were then approaching completion, and were expected to be ready in a few weeks. These two bridges, which are on the same plan as the Carnac bridge, were finished about a fortnight ago, and on Saturday a number of gentlemen met at Musjid bridge at the invitation of the contractors, Messrs. Glover & Co., to celebrate the opening of the bridges for traffic. We may again mention that the length of the approach to the Musjid bridge is 650 feet, and that of the Elphinstone bridge 1,400 feet. An easy gradient of 1 in 30 leads to all the bridges. The span of each bridge is fifty-two feet. The width of the roadway of the Musjid bridge, including foot-paths, is sixty feet, which we believe is some feet broader than London bridge, and that of Elphinstone bridge fifty feet. At 4 o'clock the gentlemen who had assembled inspected the substantial work of the bridge, and afterwards adjourned to an adjoining bungalow, where refreshments had been provided, and where some time was pleasantly spent. "Messrs. Glover and Co." was proposed by Mr. Ormiston, and in doing so he remarked that that firm was now celebrated for the excellence of the work done by it, as well as the expedition with which all the work entrusted to it was finished. He had had many opportunities of noticing the substantial character of Messrs Glover and Co's works, and these overbridges would certainly maintain the reputation of the firm. The toas having been duly honoured, Mr. Glover replied; and afterwards proposed the health of Mr. Ormiston, the Chief Engineer of the Elphinstone Company, saying that Mr. Ormiston was always ready at any time to afford assistance and information to the builders, in that way facilitating the work and making it pleasant to work with him. Mr. Ormiston, after thanking the company for the manner in which the toast had been received, said that on an occasion such as this they should not forget absent friends, and he would propose "Renewed Health and Professional Success to Mr. John Napier." Mr. Napier had been his first assistant engineer, and had given him very valuable assistance in preparing the plans for these bridges and in relieving him from the trouble of looking after various details. Mr. Napier had always applied himself zealously to his work, and he was sorry to hear that he was not enjoying very good health in England, but he would ask them to drink to the renewed health and professional success of Mr. Napier. The "Traffic Department, coupled with the name of Mr. John Ryan," "Mr. Ormiston's Assistants," and "The Secretaries and Treasurers of the Elphinstone Company," were then proposed, duly honoured, and responded to, when the company separated. We have already on a former occasion remarked on the immense advantage of these bridges to traders, and the advantage is so apparent and so well understood that it is unnecessary to say more on that subject. The traffic to and from the bunders on the Elphinstone property is surprisingly great, and the streets near the overbridges are frequently almost blocked up with carts. To obviate the pressure on the streets, a wide road is being constructed on the Elphinstone property, which will run along the whole length of wharfage from Carnac bridge to Elphinstone bridge. We understand that one or two other overbridges are about to be erected, one of them at Mazagon.

MAHIM FAIR.

MAHIM FAIR, the largest one hereabouts and lasting for three days, commenced on Saturday. At night the bazaar was quite crowded in every corner, by thousands of natives, and others, chiefly Mahomedans. There seems to be a kind of character common to fairs of all countries; but certainly the glittering stalls of English toys, and those of native ornaments, the dismal-looking fruit establishments, the cooking "depots," and the numerous liquor stalls, form a singular scene, when lit up by innumerable native lamps. And then there is the cry of the stall-keeper, the talkamong the visitors, the everlasting calls of beggars, and the monotonous creak of sugar-cane squeezers and merry-go-rounds. Shows too are not wanting—one is a closely covered establishment, with a "heavy swell" in charge, doing his best to secure the pice. His show contains several of, the monkey tribe. But the most ingenious idea is that of the keeper of the establishment which has the sign of "The cock with two horns" prominently displayed in English, Persian, and Guzerathi. This illustrious cock, it may be mentioned, has two appendages like horns, hard and hollow, fixed at the combs. But they are an apparent deception, part of the comb being inserted at the end, and the horns fastened on with a piece of copper wire. One would almost imagine the owner had been studying the report on experiments as given in a recent home magazine, which states—"There seems to be sufficient evidence that each cell in the body has a quasi-independent existence; the spur of a cock inserted into the eye of an ox lived for eight years, and acquired a weight of nearly fourteen ounces. The tail of a pig has been grafted into the middle of its back, and that belonging to a rat into the cartilage of its nose, and both have re-acquired sensibility. A strip of periosteum from the bone of a young dog placed under the skin of a rabbit has been known to develope true bone." We do not suppose the showman will send "home" the result of his experiment, but we should think he will by his receipts make the value of his wire and the keep of the bird. Every train on Saturday evening brought great numbers of visitors to the fair, and a large number were taken, too, by bullock carts "chartered" from all parts of Bombay. The whole bazaar was kept in excellent order, thanks, in a great measure, to the exertions of Mr. Brown, the superintendent in charge.

AN EARTHQUAKE IN ENGLAND.

SHORTLY after half-past 10 on Friday night, the 30th October, a distinct shock of earthquake was felt in many places in the West of England, and in South Wales. The unusual sensation lasted for about a couple of seconds and is presumed to have been occasioned by what is termed an earth wave. Five years ago (in October, 1863) a similar shock occurred, which was felt throughout a considerable part of the West of England.

The shock the day mentioned was felt in Worcester and numerous towns and villages on the western bank of the Severn, up to the boundaries of the county on that side. The incidents appear to have varied considerably. In some situations it was so slight as hardly to be perceptible, while in others the witnesses described it as even more severe than that which was experienced in 1863. It appears pretty certain that persons who happened to be in the upper chambers of their houses did not experience the effects of the shock so acutely as those who were at the time in the basement. Many persons who had retired to rest, and were undisturbed by it, were incredulous when informed of the fact by their neighbours until corroborative evidence was accumulated from all quarters. The time when the shock was perceived was, as near as can be ascertained, 20 minutes to 11. The night was cloudy, but light, the moon being nearly at the full. The indications of the earthquake were various. Some persons describe it as a trembling of the earth as if a laden waggon was passing along the street, others imagined some animal had got into their bedrooms and was scampering about the floor. The motion of articles of furniture, the jingling of glasses, and the oscillation of beds were very common. Most of the reports agree that these indications were accompanied by a noise like that of a high wind, or of a vehicle or train passing. Reports were brought into Worcester in the course of Saturday from different towns and villages westward describing the shock in very similar terms. It is a fact, though it may have nothing to do with these phenomena, that up to the time of the shock the weather was cold, but the thermometer rose 15 deg. on Saturday.

Three shocks were felt in Leamington. They followed each other in rapid succession, but none of them were either violent or prolonged. The first occurred at about a quarter to 11 o'clock, and was felt in difference streets, but more particularly in the west and north-west portion of what is termed the New Town, which

The whole have been carefully selected by an experienced Agent with reference to their suitability to the Indian climate.

The following can be had loose by weight:—

White Drumhead Cabbage, Crimson Beet, Radish, Turnip, French Beans and Peas may be had alone with the above packet.

H. R. B. also desires to call particular attention to the Powders below-named, which are unrivalled:—

PERSIAN INSECT POWDER.—This Powder, while perfectly enoxious to animal life, is unrivalled in the total destruction of Fleas, Beetles, Moths, and every variety of insect. For Dogs, the Powder well rubbed into their coats will immediately destroy all Fleas—a great desideratum both to Sportsmen and to Ladies; while for domestic purposes it is even more invaluable, especially for use in bed-rooms or store closets, as no Bug could live near the influence of this never failing destroyer; and to Moths it is equally destructive. In green houses its use is very efficacious in destroying the small Green Fly, so prejudicial to the health of plants: for this purpose some powder should be sprinkled on some red-hot wood or coal. For Beetles it is undeniably the best destroyer known, as a very small quantity sprinkled in places they most frequent will be fatal to them.

NOTICES.

FRENCH MEDICINES,
PREPARED
BY GRIMAULT & Co.,
CHEMISTS TO H. I. H. PRINCE NAPOLEON,
45, Rue de Richelieu,
PARIS.

CHILDREN'S DISEASES.

IODIZED SYRUP of HORSE-RADISH, prepared by Grimault & Co., Paris.—This syrup contains iodine combined with the juice of water-cress, horse-radish, and scurvy-grass, in which iodine and sulphur exist naturally, and for this reason it is an excellent substitute for cod liver oil, which is generally supposed to owe its efficacy to the presence of iodine. The iodized syrup of horse-radish invariably produces most satisfactory results administered to children suffering from lymphatism, rachitism, congestion of the glands of the neck, or the various eruptions on the face so frequent during infancy. It is also the best remedy for the first stage of consumption. Being at once tonic and depurative, it excites the appetite, promotes digestion, and restores to the tissues their natural firmness and vigour.

DISEASES OF THE CHEST.

SYRUP of HYPOPHOSPHITE of LIME.—Grimault and Co., Chemists, Paris.—A syrup compounded with this new salt has been introduced by Dr. Churchill for the treatment of pulmonary phthisis. Recent trials made at the Brompton Consumption Hospital, an institution especially devoted to the treatment of diseases of the chest, have abundantly demonstrated the absolute necessity of obtaining this new therapeutic agent in the most perfectly pure and neutral condition. Each tablespoonful of syrup contains four grains of perfectly pure hypophosphite of lime; and, as compounded by MM. Grimault and Co., of Paris, this syrup is the only preparation which guarantees to the medical profession all the properties required in this valuable medicine.

DIARRHŒA, DERANGEMENTS OF THE STOMACH.

GRIMAULT and Co.'s GUARANA.—This natural vegetable production, perfectly innocuous, has been long used in Brazil with the utmost success as a remedy for diarrhœa, sick head-ache, dysentery, and all disorders proceeding from derangement of the stomach or bowels. This powder is indispensable for all families, and far more efficacious than opium and the subnitrate of bismuth.

SOLUBLE PHOSPHATE OF IRON.
By Leras. M. D., Docteurs ès Sciences.
GRIMAULT & Co., CHEMISTS,

According to the opinion of the members of the Paris Academy of Medicine, this article is superior to all the ferruginous preparations known. It agrees best with the stomach, never causes costiveness; it contains the elements of the blood and the osseous frame, and succeeds where other preparations fail, such as Vallet's pills, iron reduced by hydrogen, lactate of iron, and ferruginous mineral water. One table spoonful of the solution or syrup contains three grains of salt of iron. They are both colourless.

DR. BURIN DU BUISSON'S Digestive Lozenges of the Alkaline Lactates.

The Alkaline Lactates exercise the most beneficial influence over the derangements of digestion, either by their peculiar action on the mucuous membrane of the stomach, or by affording to the latter through their combination with the saliva to the gastric juice a supply of lactic acid, which all English, French, and other physiologists admit to be an essential principle of digestion. For the information of those who may be without medical advice, it may be stated here that the symptoms of impaired digestion are—Headache, pain in the forehead, hemicrania, gastritis, gastralgia, heartburn, wind in the stomach and bowels, loss of appetite, emaciation, etc

INTERNAL OF LOCAL
NEW CURATIVE AGENT
Matico.
GRIMAULT & Co., PARIS.

This new remedy is prepared from the leaves of a Peruvian pepper shrub, called MATICO and cures promptly and infallibly, without any fear of inflammatory results. The great majority of Physicians in Paris, Russia, Germany and New York now use no other remedy. Full directions accompany each Bottle and Packet, or an explanatory Treatise will be sent post free.
